the further organization of the Sungari River Command, now known as the North Sungari Pacification Headquarters, until he had received the entire sum of NEC $200,000,000 which he stated had been granted him by the Central Government. From information given below it appears that, while General CHEN Cheng has set up the Sungari Pacification Headquarters, he has no intention of allowing General MA to operate independently of the Northeast Pacification Headquarters.

The following information is given as being of use should the North Sungari Pacification Headquarters become more than a headquarters on paper only. The possibility of such an eventuality seems remote.)
